Provide a depth of understanding of and an appreciation for the Portuguese language and literary traditions and the multiple cultures that the language represents. It is maturity, effective writing, and acceptable oral communication. It is also designed to establish habits of broad spiritual thought and appreciation that will provide asource of life-long personal betterment and service to the extended community.

Many majors go on to professional schools (law, medicine, dentistry, business, etc.), where a liberal arts background is advised. A strong minor or second major inthe employment area is strongly advised.

Foreign Language Student Residence The Foreign Language Student Residence provides live-in opportunities for students in Portuguese. A twenty-four-hour-a-day Portuguese rule assures participants intensive use of the language, under the direction of native speakers. See the department secretary at 3190 JFSB for information.

Strongly Recommended: Students planning to go on to a graduating degree in Portuguese should consider taking Port 377 and a second modern foreign language at the 200-level with B or better.

Note: Students are strongly encouraged to participate in a Portuguese language/culture immersion experience, such as an LDS mission, study abroad program, internship, a semester in the Foreign Language Student Residence, or a service learning course.

Note: An ACTFL Oral Proficiency Interview and Writing Proficiency Test are taken in connection with Port 491. It is expected that Portuguese majors will pass both tests with a rating of Advanced Low or higher.

THE MAJOR:
The undergraduate Portuguese major is a liberal arts program that aims to develop skills in critical thinking, written expression, and oral proficiency in the Portuguese language. The major should provide a depth of understanding of and an appreciation for the Portuguese language and literary traditions and the multiple cultures that the language represents. It is designed to serve students who plan to enter the learned professions or pursue other career paths that require perceptual reading, orderly and clear thinking, intellectual maturity, effective writing, and acceptable oral communication. It is also designed to establish habits of broad spiritual thought and appreciation that will provide a source of life-long personal betterment and service to the extended community.

CAREERS:
Below is a list of potential career options for Portuguese majors. Many majors go on to professional schools (law, medicine, dentistry, business, etc.), where a liberal arts background is advised. A strong minor or second major in the employment area is strongly advised.

Business—management, sales/marketing, human resources, marketing research, advertising, finance, insurance, lobbying with business firms, insurance companies, bookstores, marketing research, museums, travel agencies, advertising agencies, real estate.
Complete business minor, get related experience, earn leadership role in campus organizations, take advertising courses, take computer courses.

Education—teaching, research, administration, student affairs in colleges, universities, adult education, professional, and graduate schools. Obtain PhD for most teaching and research positions, develop one or more concentrations (linguistics, history, law, sociology, literary criticism, cultural studies). Gain related experience, secure internship in area of interest.

Government—staff positions, congressional staffs, lobbying with federal and state governments, federal agencies including FBI, USIA, Commission on Civil Rights, State Department, DOE, FCC, Foreign Service, Federal Municipal Archives, National and State Endowments for the Humanities. Learn federal, state, and local job application process.

Translation/Interpretation—writing, editing, technical writing, journalism, advertising with publishing and insurance companies, travel agencies, magazine and ewspapers, advertising agencies and professional/trade organizations. Serve on college newspaper staff, develop excellent writing and desktop publishing skills; take courses or minor in journalism, English, or advertising; get related experience, join professional organization.

Social/Community Services—staff positions or research for nonprofit organizations, immigration services, social services, public interest research groups, museums, libraries. Develop excellent verbal and written communication skills, gain related work experience, acquire master’s degree in Library Science.
