The Sociocultural Anthropology double major should be combined with your primary major’s academic plan to avoid increasing the cost and number of semesters to graduate. Use the anthropology courses instead of general electives in your primary major’s academic plan. Careful planning with your primary academic advisor is encouraged.

This is the proposed sequence of courses to add to your primary major classes and general education classes each semester.
BA in Anthropology (Sociocultural Double Major) (732030)
2017-2018 Program Requirements (39.5 Credit Hours)

This major is only available to students completing an additional major in another field.

THE DISCIPLINE

The 33 hour sociocultural major is designed to accommodate the varying interests of students from a range of other disciplines, but it is only available to students completing an additional major in another field. Its purpose is to allow students with other majors to add the perspectives that anthropology is uniquely qualified to provide.

FINANCING

Many students work up to 20 hours per week. Some find employment in campus labs and some junior and senior students obtain teaching or research assistantships. Most of our students obtain summer jobs that make use of their training and interests in conservation issues.

CAREERS

For more information on careers in your major, please contact the University Career Center or the College of Family, Home, and Social Sciences Academic Advisement Center.

MAP DISCLAIMER

While every reasonable effort is made to ensure accuracy, there are some student populations that could have exceptions to listed requirements. Please refer to the university catalog and your college advisement center/department for complete guidelines.
