Since art is a mirror of human society, the specific disciplines of theatre and media arts cover our innermost attempts at comprehending our existence through all time. The BYU theatre program is designed to educate theatre makers, students who have a basic foundation in dramatic literature, theatre history, performance skills as both actor and director, and techniques in all areas of theatre design technology and production. THE EXPERIENCE: The Theatre Arts Studies major is an open enrollment program that provides a strong liberal arts foundation that can be used effectively in a variety of performance-related careers or graduate studies. The major provides practical training, critical thinking skills, and the development of professional ethics across the various performance disciplines. Graduates will be prepared to go directly into internships, graduate study, or entry-level jobs in the field of theatre and performance.	Theatre Arts Studies graduates are generalists with skills and proficiencies that can be used in multiple production venues and media environments. While students may focus their studies in specific areas of interest—such as critical studies, dramaturgy, design and technology, directing, stage management, playwriting, and theatre for young audiences—we train them to be theatre makers. We intend all students to take responsibility for their lives and become critical thinkers and creative doers. Graduates from the Theatre Arts Studies program will be qualified individuals who find ways to navigate the paths of their lives—whether they go into the field of theatre and performance or not. Within the department, professional training is available in acting, directing, voice and diction, playwriting, lighting, and scenic and costume design. Participation in dozens of faculty, graduate- and undergraduate-student directed theatre and film projects provides the best possible forum for trying out these professional skills. Internships and hourly jobs are available with school districts locally and outside of the area, as well as with theatre, film, and television companies. FINANCING FOR EDUCATION: The department offers assistantships in our scenic and costume studios, backstage in facility management, properties, scenic art, and in the classroom and labs at various levels of responsibility. While some department scholarships are available to incoming students, department Merit Awards and university scholarships are available to continuing students. Contact the Theatre and Media Arts Department for more information. HONORARY SOCIETIES AND CLUBS: The department is actively involved in the American College Theatre Festival, the Association for Theatre in Higher Education, the Utah Theatre Association, and the United States Institute of Theatre Technology. All are organizations with yearly conferences for faculty and students at various locations across the United States. The department also hosts a Student Theatre Association and a Student Film Association.
