REQUIREMENT 11

Complete a minimum of 72 hours in courses outside of the department while meeting BYU’s University Core requirements.

GENERAL INFORMATION:

Working under faculty direction, students in the school edit and publish the Universe as a laboratory newspaper for the campus, produce daily television newscasts that air on the local BYU TV station and are streamed online, produce content for universe.byu.edu, plan advertising and public relations campaigns, solve media sales and management problems, and use “new media” in diverse situations. The School of Communications sponsors the International Media Studies Program, which seeks to broaden students’ awareness of worldwide communications issues and practices. Not only do students have opportunity to study the media systems of other nations through classes and on-site experiences, but media practitioners of other nations are also brought to campus as lecturers and visiting experts. The school encourages early admission. Students who enroll in Comms 101, 239, and complete the English requirement can apply to the major as early as the second semester of their freshman year.

SCHOOL REQUIREMENTS:

1. Each student must be Pre-Comms in order to apply to the major. Contact the college advisement center for admission requirements, or comms.byu.edu.

2. All students must take a campus writing course before applying for admission to the major. WRTG 150 or any Advanced Writing Course fulfills this requirement. AP credit does not.

3. Complete a minimum of 72 hours in courses outside of the department, while meeting BYU’s University Core requirements.

4. Every student is required to complete an internship. Although the school operates an internship office (280 Brimhall Building) that serves as a clearinghouse for internship information, the responsibility for securing an internship rests with the student. However, students may not embark on any internship without prior approval from a faculty advisor, before processing appropriate documents with the Internship Office (280 BRMB), and without being enrolled in Comms 496R.

5. In certain courses, students will be required to demonstrate proficiency in InDesign, Adobe Photoshop and Adobe Illustrator by portfolio review. See the School of Communications in 360 BRMB.

6. For program objectives, please see: learningoutcomes.byu.edu.

THE DISCIPLINE:

Journalism is a discipline that provides factual and relevant information for democratic decision making, community building, and public deliberation. The study of journalism entails the mastery of working with people to present news and features in a way that accurately and fully reflects the world in which we live. Students will acquire skills in analytical thinking, lucid writing, and effective interviewing to be able to present clear and compelling news products in words, sounds, and images. Students will study media law and ethics, journalism research methods, and will choose the degree to which they will specialize in either new media, traditional print, or traditional broadcasting. To develop a wide understanding of the world and the processes that make society work, students are encouraged to earn more than 60 percent of their credits in other departments.

CAREER OPPORTUNITIES:
The exciting field of journalism offers the allure of working in a profession that has its finger on the changing pulse of society. Whether serving as reporters, producers, or editors for newspaper, television, radio, or online, journalists find themselves rubbing shoulders with important people and recording important events. A career in journalism implies not only skills with words, but the ability to make sound judgments and to ferret out facts. In addition to the obvious careers as reporters, editors, anchors, and producers, students often find their journalism skills in demand in a variety of other areas. Many find the challenge of recording the drama of real life both satisfying and enlightening. Recent changes in technologies and business models continue to change the way news is produced and distributed. These changes call for greater skill in writing and multi-media storytelling to be able to visualize the world in an interesting way. Overall, one of journalism’s great satisfactions had been the sense that one can make a difference in the world and bring about changes for the better.

OFF-CAMPUS PROFESSIONAL INTERNSHIPS:
Internships must be arranged with the approval of students’ faculty advisors. Students are required to complete 280 hours on an internship. Such an internship must be under the supervision of a full-time print journalist practitioner. Prerequisites for the internship are Comms 308; 321 or 325. Internships on campus must be specifically approved by the faculty advisor well in advance. Not all campus internships fill the requirement. Students must have C– or better in all internship prerequisite classes.

FACULTY ADVISOR:
Check with the School of Communications, 360 BRMB, to be assigned to a faculty advisor.

MAP DISCLAIMER
While every reasonable effort is made to ensure accuracy, there are some student populations that could have exceptions to listed requirements. Please refer to the university catalog and your college advisement center/department for complete guidelines.
