The Sociocultural Anthropology double major should be combined with your primary major’s academic plan to avoid increasing the cost and number of semesters to graduate. Use the anthropology courses instead of general electives in your primary major’s academic plan. Careful planning with your primary academic advisor is encouraged.

This is the proposed sequence of courses to add to your primary major classes and general education classes each semester.
This major is only available to students completing an additional major in another field. Double counting courses between primary major and anthropology will not be allowed.

REQUIREMENT 1 Complete 7 courses

- ANTHR 101 - Social/Cultural Anthropology 3.0
- ANTHR 150 - Introduction to the Major 0.5
- ANTHR 201 - Foundations of Social Theory 3.0
- ANTHR 202 - Foundations of Anthropological Theory 3.0
- ANTHR 442 - Ethnographic Research Design and Methods 3.0
- ANTHR 495R - Ethnographic Field Project 6.0v

You may take this course up to 1 time.

*ANTHR 499 - Senior Thesis 3.0

Note: The major requires that a field project be completed in one of the recognized field schools conducted by a member of the BYU faculty. A local field work option is available in exceptional circumstances and must be approved by the entire faculty.

REQUIREMENT 2 Complete 6.0 hours from the following course(s)

- ANTHR 327 - The Hmong Diaspora: Culture, History, and Language 3.0
- ANTHR 330 - Peoples of Africa 3.0
- ANTHR 335 - Peoples of India 3.0
- ANTHR 340 - Peoples of the Middle East 3.0

ANTHR 546 - Anthropology of Mormonism 3.0

Note: Only 6 hours may be taken in 390R courses to count in the major. They may be taken as electives beyond this point.

THE DISCIPLINE

Through coursework and first-hand research experience, anthropology majors will gain knowledge and research skills that employers value and that will help the students to make sense of the sociocultural worlds that we all live in. The hands-on research component of this major also makes it an excellent choice for students interested in going on to further graduate study in any social science discipline. The 33 hour sociocultural major is designed to accommodate the varying interests of students from a range of other disciplines. It is only available to students completing an additional major in another field. Its purpose is to allow students with other majors to add the perspectives of anthropology to their research.

FINANCING

Many students work up to 20 hours per week. Some find employment in campus labs and many of our junior and senior students obtain teaching or research assistantships. Most of our students obtain summer jobs that make use of their training and interests. There is frequently additional funding available to help support students pay for their international field schools. Additionally, there is a local field school option for students who, for whatever reason, are unable to participate in one of our international field schools.

CAREERS

Students majoring in sociocultural anthropology will acquire a set of skills that employers find very appealing, including: ability to plan, design, and carry out research; writing skills; cross-cultural understanding; and ability to work effectively in groups.
