Your faculty advisor can assist you in choosing electives to meet your total hour requirement.

Note: All SFL majors are encouraged to take SFL 200 to fulfill their The Eternal Family Religion Cornerstone requirement.

Note: Students are encouraged to complete an average of 15 credit hours each semester or 30 credit hours each year, which could include spring and/or summer terms. Taking fewer credits substantially increases the cost and the number of semesters to graduate.
REQUIREMENT 3

To take student development courses related to career planning in their employment opportunities.

The bachelor's degree should take other courses that will enhance their requirement for graduation.

Students who do not plan to pursue a graduate program beyond the program.

The School of Family Life requires a minimum of 18 hours of SFL upper-division course work to be taken in residency at BYU for this degree. These hours may also go toward BYU's 30-hour residency requirement for graduation.

THE DISCIPLINE:

Family studies designates a curriculum for those who wish to become skilled in a discipline of inquiry (theory, research, and practice) regarding all aspects of family life, including the temporal welfare of families, the interactions within a family, and the family’s central role in community and culture. Students can study the practical skills required to meet human needs such as feeding, housing, clothing, and financing the family. The family studies major seeks to promote religious and community involvement that maintains and strengthens home and family as the fundamental unit of society. Students will study the theories, contexts, and processes used to understand the dynamics of family interaction within and outside of the home.

This curriculum offers a foundational breadth and depth to understanding the conduct and value of human social science. It also offers the student a specific focus, an identity and expertise, and freedom to create a program that best meets their professional and life goals. Specific goals for students include how to: (1) conduct and evaluate research efforts – reported both in journals and in the press, (b) use interpretive frameworks to offer coherent renditions of the meaning of human experience, (c) evaluate contexts of family interaction, and (d) apply family science knowledge to real-life issues that emerge in practice and daily family life.

PREPARATION FOR GRADUATE STUDIES:

Students who plan to attend graduate school should take SFL 330 and 460. In addition, SFL 330 will help students explore options for graduate study in marriage and family therapy. Other 300- and 400-level courses that emphasize human development or family studies will prepare students for the marriage, family, and human development graduate program.

RESEARCH OPPORTUNITIES:

Students are encouraged to work with professors on research projects that help them experience the “how to” of being a family scientist. Students may contact faculty individually, seek mentoring grants from the university, register for internships (the capstone course) that help them integrate classroom learning with real-world experience, and create projects of their own. Contact the family studies faculty.

INTERNSHIPS:

Contact Family and Social Services Internship Office in 945 SWKT.

CLUBS:

School of Family Life Student Association (SFLSA)

FINANCING:

Many students work up to 20 hours per week. Some find employment on campus and some junior and senior students obtain teaching and research assistantships. Many of our students obtain summer jobs that make use of their training and interests.

MAP DISCLAIMER

While every reasonable effort is made to ensure accuracy, there are some student populations that could have exceptions to listed requirements. Please refer to the university catalog and your college advisement center/department for complete guidelines.
